Mochipet

With a line of diverse releases and remixes on: Tigerbeat6, Bpitchcontrol, Schematic, ExNihilo, Detroit Underground, and Component, Mochipet once again brings something new to the table. As label head of Daly City Records, he presents us with five tracks featuring the likes of Mikah 9, Ray Barbee, Machinedrum, and TaiwanKid.

Ray Barbee

Mostly known for his amazing accomplishments in the world of Skateboarding, this ex-Powell & Peralta rider is also an amazing musician. The San Jose native drops some extremely tasteful melodic guitar over Mochipet's syncopated backwards beats on this disc. Make sure to keep a lookout for his sophomore LP on Galaxia Records with friend and mentor Tommy Guerrero.

Mikah 9

(freestyle fellowship)

Mikah 9 is a core player in the Freestyle Fellowship (Aceyalone, Mikah 9, P.E.A.C.E., and Self Jupiter), a legendary yet still underground hip-hop group from Southern California. He drops a proper verse for us on this disc in salute to Mochipet and TaiwanKid.

Daedelus (ninja tune)

With a string of releases on Plug Research, NinjaTune, and Eastern Development, Daedelus has refined a style that has no imitators. The producer's impressive catalogue boasts collaborations with Busdriver, Sach, Abstract Rude, Madlib, and High Priest (Anti-Pop Consortium). He drops it proper on this disc with a halftime dancehall meets lounge piano bar selection.

Spaceheater

A saxophone, a flute, a conga drum, Evan Francis, a six-pack of beer, an sm-57 microphone, a folder of junk beat sketches, Billy Mitsakos, and some Pro Tools editing. Welcome to the next level of Woodwinds Hip Hop.

Edit

(alphapup / planet-mu)

Having shared residencies at Konkrete Jungle, Dublab, and [Eraser]; as well as a release on µ-Ziq's Planet-Mu imprint. This Los Angeles resident definitely has a Crunk up. Ed drops some classic glitch swing on this release. Look for his new LP on Daddy Kev's Alphapup label coming in 2006.

Eustachian

Eustachian has been moving around spreading distance between the three positions consistently for a few years now. Touring with Machinedrum, Edit, Mochipet, Team Shadetek Terminal 11, 8FM, Daedelus, Cylob, The Flashbulb, and Richard Devine. They're beats on this disc verge on being the most crump and mysterious.

Mophono

Known for his diverse DJ sets that blend turntablism with eclectic rhythm-driven soul, Mophono drops a proper remix for Live Human (a San Francisco based live hip-hop jazz group) "Break7" as well as a completely original piece "Lily." Ex-Urb Magazine Editor, Joe Rice calls Mophono's constructions "a beat wise collage of manipulated grooves."

TaiwanKid

Not much is known about TaiwanKid except that his name seems to keep popping up everywhere you go. From Skatevideos to Mixtapes to remixes, this Taipei native drops a proper remix and verse for Mochipet and Mikah9's "Hope Again."

Delux

Delux is one Graham Hill. He grew up on a commune in West Virginia with many musicians and trees, all of which he came to love. He has streamers on his bicycle, and enjoys buildings. Delux plays shows in exchange for money in hopes of scoring a very big pogo ball, which you might find him riding to work in the East Bay one day.

BloodySnowman

If there was a black unicorn in an enchanted forest that made hip hop, it would be BloodySnowman. As the name implies, the music is Bloody, Cold and Dark. Something you might not like at first, but over time it will grow on you. Like a rainy San Francisco day, it's an enjoyable undertaking.
